

Angela Murakami, Clarinet

Angela Murakami - is a native of the Washington, DC area. She earned her Bachelor of Music in Clarinet Performance from the University of Maryland where she studied with Dr. Norman Heim and her Master of Music degree from Northwestern University in Evanston IL, where her teachers included Clark Brody and the late Robert Marcellus. In addition to being a member of Fuse Ensemble, Ms. Murakami is principal clarinetist of the Trinity Chamber Orchestra of Washington and the Washington Savoyards. She also plays in a woodwind quintet called Ensemble à La Carte and regularly performs on the Rock Creek Chamber Players concert series. Ms. Murakami has also recorded on the Halcyon Productions label with Charles Stier, the Halcyon Ensemble, and Ravello Records.